

Titusville Morning Herald.

Titusville, Tuesday, May 14, 1867.

TRAINING MATTER ON EVERY FAIR.

—Oil of 47 gravity sold at the McClintock Farm yesterday at $2.50 at the well.

—A promenade concert for the benefit of the Episcopal church at Oil City, is to be given this evening.

—The shipments of oil over the Farmers' Railroad from Petroleum Centre on Saturday reached 1,188 barrels.

—Owing to a severe thunder storm along the eastern lines, our telegraph report is unusually short this morning.

—During the last week 1,402,737 gallons of petroleum oil were shipped from Philadelphia, equal in value to $255,030.

—The National Saengerfest, with Philadelphia next month, and the Germans of that city are making great preparations for the occasion.

—A man whose name we did not learn escaped from the lock-up on Saturday afternoon by taking a stone from the west wall. He has not been heard from since.

—Colchester, the spiritual medium, whose inexplicable performances were a seven days' wonder in Titusville a year ago, died at Kookuk, Iowa, on the 4th inst.

—A large wolf was killed last week by Andrew Fisher, of Grant township, Indiana county. The animal had ventured into Mr. Fisher's barn yard, and was quickly dispatched.

—The Lincoln Cabin, which was built of rails split by Abraham Lincoln and John Hanks, and which has been in Philadelphia since 1860, is to be exhibited at Paris by Mr. Hanks.

—A bald-headed eagle was caught in a trap, near Portage, Cameron county, a few days since, by Geoffrey Farnham, of Prestonville. The eagle measures seven feet from tip of tip of his wings.

—Mr. Thurston, the Meadville balloonist, has nearly completed a balloon which will contain between forty and fifty thousand cubic feet of gas, and which will be capable of sustaining six persons.

—Mr. H. S. Beals, late foreman in this office, sailed from New York for Liverpool, yesterday, to visit the Paris Exposition. We hope to receive no occasional letter from him during his absence.

—The ninth annual Convention of the New York State Sportsmen's Club will be held at Le Roy, Genesee county, May 21. The Hon. Geo. W. Clinton of Buffalo, will deliver the annual address.

—No candidates are yet announced for the office of Jury Commissioner. The salary is $250 per year and mileage; a sum that would scarcely cover the candidate's election expenses. And so the office is likely to go begging.

—Conductor Baker, who was shot a few days since on the Rochester and Niagara Falls Railroad by a drunken passenger, is recovering. He will not prosecute Casad, since he is satisfied he was under the influence of liquor when he fired the pistol.

—A new well, called the Tomlinson well, was struck on Sunday on lease No. 29 of the Caldwell well farm, Bull Run. It is producing 100 barrels of oil per day, and it is the largest producing well on Bull Run. Mr. E. H. Tomlinson of this city controls the working interest.

—Rev. W. Howell Taylor leaves to-day to attend the General Assembly of the New School Presbyterian church, which meets at Rochester, N. Y., on the 18th. Mr. Taylor is the Synodical Delegate. The Old School Assembly convenes at Cincinnati on the same day.

—Cable-latic.

—"I put a globe round about the earth in forty minutes."—Puck (The Tribune).

The purchase of Blakerpore was never more clearly illustrated than in the completion of the Atlantic Cable, and that same latter day "Puck" will practically fulfill the boastful assertion of his dramatic predecessor or can be no longer doubted. It seems hardly credible that the events of the Old World should be commemorated to us by electricity as they transpire, notwithstanding that every day's experience bears testimony to the astounding fact. On Sunday night, for example, we were in direct communication with London and Berlin, and were informed that the treaty of peace concluded by the London Conference had been ratified by the respective governments.

There were also tidings from Ireland, Austria, Spain, Italy and Greece. In Titusville, yesterday morning, we read of the World's memorable transactions during the last preceding twenty-four hours. Space and time, as regards communication of thought and intelligence between Europe and America, have dwindled down to an hour or two. Thousands of miles across stormy ocean waters are compressed into a space measured as instantaneously as thought itself. Words are no longer winged, but electrified, and lightning is reduced to the level of fact.

Somewhat said of Christopher Columbus: "I do not admire his discovery of America so much as I do that he was willing to risk everything on the faith of an opinion." Cyrus W. Field is entitled to the same eulogium. He dared to attempt what was very generally regarded as impossible. Three mortifying failures could not conquer his indomitable energy and resolution. Old companies were made bankrupt, new ones were formed, and the so-called American enthusiast continued to "throw their money into the sea." Perseverance triumphed. Fortune smiled. The success was sudden and unexpected. Europe and America are united by an electric cord, whose effects surpass all previous conquests over time and space, and thrill the nations of the earth with joy and wonder in contemplation of its benefits. "This net is mortal to command success; they can do more—DESERVE IT."

PRISONERS OF WAR COMMUTATIONS.—The Washington correspondent of the Tribune furnishes the following:

It is not generally known that the last Congress just adjourned passed a bill granting to the heirs of Union soldiers who died prisoners of war, commutation for rations at the rate of one cent per day for each day of imprisonment. The following heirs are entitled, and in the order named. First, widow, if unmarried at date of passage of act, March 3, 1867. Second, children. Third, parents; to both jointly if they are living. If either is dead, to the survivor. Fourth, brothers and sisters of the deceased soldier dying. Colonel Lee, the New York State Agent in this city, is prepared to furnish blanks and present to the proper department for adjustment. Gratuitously, any children of heirs of deceased New York soldiers arising under that law.

Mr. J. H. Stewart, agent for the State of Pennsylvania at Washington, has rendered invaluable service to applicants under the Pension Laws, as shown by his official reports.

Lost.—On Saturday evening, a "Diamond Cross" pin, originally containing eleven brilliant stones, of which were missing. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving it at this office.

Floriculture.

Our may not be the best place in the country to grow flowers, but it is far better than Greenland or our new fur country, recently bought of the Czar of the Russias. In these northern regions some flowers are found, and in the city of Titusville last year some of our people had very handsome displays of flowers on their grounds. There are many who have been used to cultivating flowers in their former homes, who are disappointed now because they cannot get any stock to begin on. Their neighbors have not a surplus to divide with them of plants or cuttings, and there is no nursery near. To put a check on their troubles there are no good selections of flower seeds in town. What is to be done? Let us point to the remedy. Last week it was our good fortune to spend a few days in Rochester, New York, that paradise of fruit and flower growing, and while there we called at the proving grounds of the greatest of American seedsmen, JAMES VICK. Mr. Vick devotes his whole business now to importing flower and vegetable seeds and bulbs, except what he can get better in this country, and a little way out of Rochester he has large greenhouses and twenty-three acres of land devoted to proving that his seeds are true to name and just what he represents them to be. This department is presided over by Mr. James Craig, well known as an educated, skillful and accomplished gardener and florist.

Mr. Vick has published a catalogue, 88 large and closely printed pages, of the seeds and bulbs he has for sale, and this he sends gratis to any applicant for his list. Simply direct a letter to "James Vick, Rochester, New York," asking for a catalogue, and you will get a book, free of cost, that contains fifty dollars' worth of advice in regard to growing flowers and vegetables, and a price list of one hundred and eighty-six species of flowers, fourteen species of flowering shrubs, blue species of ever-lasting flowers, eleven of ornamental grasses, and of each species there are from three to twenty different varieties, all grown from seed, parents of which he sends, postage paid, from five to ten cents for all except the newer and rare sorts.

In addition to this there is a full list of flowering bulbs for spring and fall planting, and a list of seeds for the vegetable garden, with instructions as to the best mode of growing. Now, then, if you want to plant a flower bed, send reader, if you want to, and make your selection from Mr. Vick's catalogue, and adapted to your own wants, and when you have succeeded in beautifying your home by a profusion of nature's offerings, send around to us a bouquet as a sample of your efforts and as a slight token of your regard for our advice.

A list of the nominations made by the President and rejected by the Senate during the special session of the Fortieth Congress has just been completed. It was printed for the confidential use of the Senate, but a copy has leaked out. The following are the number rejected for out: Postmasters, 113; Collectors of Customs, 109; Collectors of Revenue, 57; Surveyors of Land and Assessors of Customs, 51; Naval Customs, 13; Collectors of Customs, 4; Pension Agents, 2; Public Lands, 4; Pension Agents, 2; Consul Generals, 2; Consul Agents, 2; Consul Agents, 2; Minister to Austria, 2. There were twenty-five nominations made which were neither confirmed nor rejected, but were laid over.

The framed nor rejected, but were laid over for most prominent of this number are Raymond for Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Sidney Austin, Clayton for Agriculture, New York City, and Howard Gay for Assessor in New York City. C. S. Franklin for Naval Officer for the Senate for the regular session of the Senate for the Fortieth Congress, the following were rejected: Postmasters, 109; Collectors and Assessors of Customs, 23; Postmasters, 108.

The Poor Order of the country are full of petty thievery. So far as the safety of money is concerned, one might as well pin a remittance upon the outside of an envelope as place it under cover of seal. There is no remedy for this, and apparently no efforts are made to do so, or reform such abuses. You are told, for example, that a registered letter mailed at Titusville never reached the distributing office at New York, and that there is no use of making any further inquiry, for it is impossible to trace it. And so the responsibility ends. These complaints are made all over the country. There was never a time when there was so much dishonesty and corruption in this branch of the public service. It would be money in the pockets of the people if every employee of the post-office were placed under a police espionage long enough to detect the actual delinquents and root them out of the service.

PETROLEUM PAINT.—L. H. Tucker, of the Franklin Greenhouse, in his notes on Long Island farming, thus alludes to a barn painted with petroleum: "On the farm of R. W. Wins, I examined a barn painted six years ago with petroleum (the heavy sort) mixed with Ohio mineral or earth paint. It appeared not to have suffered in the slightest degree by weather and time, the coat being complete and undiminished. The barn is ninety feet long and thirty-two wide, with six feet high feet, the whole surface painted being about 4,000 square feet. The entire cost of the petroleum, the paint, and of labor, was not over twenty-four dollars. It would probably be one-tenth more at the present time. It is obviously a very cheap and perfect mode of coating wooden buildings, adapted even to handsome dwellings."

ACCIDENT.—About two o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr. L. Mills, formerly of the firm of Fowler & Mills, was severely injured by a gas explosion at the Sherman well. It seems that he had thrown a quantity of crude oil into the fire-burn of the engine, and when he attempted to light it the gas exploded, setting his clothes on fire, burning him severely about the face and left arm. As soon as the explosion occurred he ran away. Mr. J. P. Bartle, who succeeded in putting out his burning garments by wrapping a coat around him. Dr. Varian, who was at Pioneer at the time, was called to attend Mr. Mills.

PERSONAL.—A few days since we had the pleasure of meeting Capt. Geo. B. Russell, 4th U. S. Inf. Capt. B. entered the service as a 2d Lieut. in 1861, was promoted to 1st Lieut. in 1862, and was stationed at Baltimore, then went to New Orleans in Gen. Banks' expedition, was seriously wounded in the charge on Fort Hudson and for some time laid up. His soldierly qualities marked him for promotion and he was promoted to the 4th regiment he received a Captaincy in the 4th. He is now ordered to report to Gen. C. C. Auger, commanding department, with headquarters at Omaha, Nebraska. We cheerfully endorse the "fitness of things" when we see such promotions.

An extraordinary sight was witnessed in the principal London streets recently. Rather more than a thousand of the most miserable wretches that ever were the garb of humanity, formed a procession and marched in silence from the neighborhood of Wapping and Whitechapel to the aristocratic quarters of St. James and Belgrave.

Every man was in rags, and every form and face bore the unmistakable marks of privation and distress. A banner or two told their character and woe. There are forty thousand of these starving people in London.

LOCAL NOTICES.

For the Titusville Herald.

"The Inhabitant must have an Infinite End in all he does."

I look abroad and see the earth
In sun and shadow lie;
The trees the hills the smiling fields,
The brooklets murmuring by,
And as I gaze I seem to feel
A soul within me stirring;
My spirit meets a spirit there,
And answers call for call;
His voice, there, a sweet melody
And I do feel it thrill me;
Dost thou think of the changing sky,
And in the sunset's slanting light,
Yes! Truly, Nature has a soul;
And I, her child, am glad to feel
His voice, there, a sweet melody
And I do feel it thrill me;
Dost thou think of the changing sky,
And in the sunset's slanting light,
Yes! Truly, Nature has a soul;
And I, her child, am glad to feel
His voice, there, a sweet melody
And I do feel it thrill me;

Yon landscape, smiling in the sun,
The lake upon the green,
The cattle grazing on the slope,
The children playing in the stream;
The forest stretching far away,
The sunlight gleaming through the trees,
The distant hills of blue,
Thou art a spirit, and I feel,
And I feel thy soul with mine;
God make his presence known to me,
Below, around, above.

I know that rocks will wear away,
That trees will fade and fall,
That all this world of ours is bright,
In dust and mould must lie;
But oh! I know that God is King
In all that we can see;
His thoughts are all around us,
And he writes on every sunny slope
And in each shady dell
And in each tiny flower;
"I, the Lord, have made the earth
In which we men do dwell."

My thoughts are infinite, and stamped
By the power of which I trace
The immortal life in every soul;
The rest will fade and pass away,
For all but him to him;
Creation came from his hand,
He walks through me, a king,
They know by every falling leaf,
The glory of his throne;
The Eternal Word, all fulfilled,
Within the heart of man.

Letter from Franklin.

Editors Morning Herald.

In the absence of startling intelligence, important events, mysterious happenings, or the existence of those thousand and one incentives to gossip, for the public or private ear, it is a matter of some labor to write a letter deserving even the casual notice of intelligent readers such as peruse the MORNING HERALD. Were we to exchange localities the task would be easier. Since the adjournment of our Criminal Court, this goodly town has relapsed into the lethargy which of late seems to have become its natural state. Everybody complains of dull times, and entertains the decided opinion that the prospect of improvement is gloomy; and as everybody's forehead has always laid high claims to veracity, its opinion is of some weight. When the community at large is dull, the disorder permeates the individual, and disables him from attempting even a third-class excitement. A penny-a-liner could scarcely make enough to replenish his stock in trade, were it to consist only of waste paper and second hand stool pines. It is true, that there seems to be throughout the country a lack of the business activity, which this season of the year ordinarily brings; and compelled to admit that this place has suffered for itself a well deserved reputation for dullness. It should not be so. Franklin received the oil of shale from the impetus accompanying the oil excitement, and in some respects secured a substantial share of benefits than some of his neighbors. Prosperity, it would seem, has reached its culmination—if not already gone beyond it. The population has decreased; and that is ominous. When the body physical declines amidst an abundance of all that is necessary to retain health, and inculcate fresh vigor, this is the evidence of disease. So with the body politic.

Wherein lies the disease? Franklin is surrounded by, and has within her command all the essentials of prosperity. Yet she is on the sick list. She is suffering from debility and requires stimulants. She wants her men of capital to come out of the slough of foginess; to rejuvenate themselves with enterprise and liberality; to devote some means of reinforcing her fast decreasing supply of products, the men of work and toil, by creating food for labor. Develop the mineral resources of the land, and use the almost countless facilities for manufacturing purposes which nature has placed within her reach. She never can obtain great prosperity and attendant wealth through agriculture or commerce. Nature has denied her these means, but has amply recompensed her with others, and which should not be discarded; for the good old dame is prudent and resourceful. Let her also obliterate that foolish line of demarcation, which the majority of her citizens with greedy selfishness have drawn between those "native and to the manor born," and the men of intelligence, industry and enterprise who did and would immigrate and contribute to her and their own mutual advantage. Had some such course as this been heretofore pursued, plain Franklin through might—yes, would, ere now be the CITY OF FRANKLIN, and could boast with your own fair city of having a daily press, and the very latest news by "midnight dispatches."

I am afraid I have gone out to you, my dear friends, uninteresting, subject to the exclusion of friends of more general interest, but will make amends hereafter. We will have two weeks of Civil Court, commencing next Tuesday, and I shall possibly be able to send you some items of interest to your Venango readers. Until then I remain yours, &c.

NEW STRIKES.—A well on Lease 37, Foster Farm, on which testing was commenced about the 1st inst., began to throw out oil on the 4th, since which time it has steadily improved and is now yielding fully one hundred barrels per day of 47 gravity. Also a well on Lease 38, began testing May 8, and is now doing forty barrels and improving. The working interest in the former is owned by Gibbs, Wheeler & Russell and others, the latter by Lewis Emery. The Foster Farm Oil Company hold the land interest. A well on Lease 56 has just commenced testing with as good indications as in either the foregoing cases.

SEVERAL applications have been made to the Pension Office for instructions and forms under an alleged "Act granting pensions to soldiers of the War of 1812 with Great Britain," said to have been approved December 6, 1866. "The Commissioner of Pensions desires that general publicity should be given to this statement that no act of that date or tenor specified has been passed by Congress. There is no law granting pensions to soldiers of the War of 1812, excepting to such as were disabled in the service, as provided for more than 80 years since.

STARTLING FACTS.—Let the people read, and they will discover that it is to their advantage to purchase a good article of white lead and put it to use to paint their dwellings, and by going to Olmsted & Jewhurst's, and purchasing the same at the reduced rates and have all goods warranted, it is money saved, as it costs no more to do the labor with a good article than poor. See to it, and secure the benefits of the reduced prices.

We don't profess to be practical men in the art of selling under false brands or misrepresentations, but our goods speak for themselves. Linseed Oil, pure, $1.10 per gallon. Brooklyn Lead, pure, 15¢ cents per pound. Brooklyn Lead, imitation, 14¢ cents per lb. No. 1 Furniture Varnish, $2.30 per gallon

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS
OF THE
Central Pacific R. R. Co.
This Company is constructing under the patronage of the United States Government the Western end of the Great National Railway across the Continent.
Their line will extend from Sacramento, California, across the Sierra Nevada to the California State line, traversing the ROUTE AND MOST FAVORABLE SECTION OF CALIFORNIA, through the GREAT MINING REGIONS OF THE TERRITORIES, to the vicinity of Salt Lake City.
It forms the SOLELY OWNED LINE of the only route to the Pacific which is adapted by Congress and the act of the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, and is the most direct, rapid, and safe route for the work of Grading, Tunneling, etc., beyond this point has been accomplished.
The FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS of this Company afford unimpaired security and profit to investors, for the following among other reasons:
First. The rate of interest is SIX PER CENT IN GOLD, payable semi-annually in the City of New York.
Second. The PRINCIPAL is payable in GOLD at maturity.
Third. The cost of the Bonds, FIFTY-FIVE PER CENT, and accrued interest, is TEN PER CENT less than that of the cheapest Six Per Cent. Gold Bonds.
Fourth. THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT PROVIDES NEARLY HALF THE AMOUNT OF GRADING, TUNNELING, etc., beyond this point has been accomplished.
Fifth. Owing to the liberal provision, accompanied with EXPENSIVE GIANTS OF PUBLIC LANDS, by which the Government Sells, or leases, the great national enterprise, ITS SUCCESS IS GUARANTEED. CRITICAL, AND ITS FINANCIAL POSITION IS SECURE.
Sixth. THE SECURITY OF ITS FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS is therefore AMPLIFIED, and their character for safety and reliability is greatly enhanced by the obligations of the GOVERNMENT itself.
Seventh. The net earnings of the completed portion of the line, after the payment of all expenses, will be sufficient to pay the interest on the Bonds.
Eighth. At the present rate of Gold they may be purchased at a discount of 10 per cent, and the amount of interest on the Bonds, at the rate of 6 per cent, will be sufficient to pay the interest on the Bonds.
Ninth. The Bonds are payable in Gold, and the interest is paid in Gold.
Tenth. The Bonds are payable in Gold, and the interest is paid in Gold.
